

Heal Us All

1. At eve-ning, when the sun had set, The sick, O Lord, a - round You lay;
2. O Sav - ior Christ, our woes dis - pel, For some are sick and some are sad,
3. And some have found the world is vain, Yet to the world they turn a - new;
4. O Sav - ior Christ, You too are man; You have been trou - bled, tempt - ed, tried;

O with how man - y pains they met! O with what joy they went a - way!
And some have nev - er loved You well, And some have lost the love they had;
And some have friends that cause them pain, Yet have not sought a friend in You.
Your kind but search - ing glance can scan The ver - y wounds that shame would hide.

Once more 'tis e - ven - tide and we, Op - pressed with var - ious ills, draw near,
And some are pressed with world - ly care, And some are tried with fear and doubt,
And none, O Lord, have per - fect rest, For none are whol - ly free from sin;
Your touch has still its an - cient pow'r— No word from You can fruit - less fall;

And though Your form we can - not see, We know that You are ev - er near.
And some such griev - ous pas - sions bear That on - ly You can cast them out.
And those who seek to serve You best Are con - scious most of wrong with - in.
Hear, in this sol - emn eve - ning hour, And in Your mer - cy heal us all.
